Work Completed:
- Monday:
  - Continued work to finalise the StAX parser so that it is user friendly for implementing into the main program
- Tuesday:
  - Big group meeting which involved a lot of design changes including deciding to hard code the GUI rather than defining GUI elements within XML and then building them
  - The DOM/JDOM2 API architecture would be used for reading and writing to XML
  - After the meeting, started working on implementing these changes
- Wednesday:
  - Researched DOM, and JDOM2 and worked on implementing the API into the main application directly rather than as a separate library to allow for more agile development.
- Thursday:
  - Refactored code and commented code
- Friday:
  - Group meeting to update everyone on their progress and assign new tasks.
  - Adjust gantt chart and plan next coming weeks
